Description:

This collection of stories is based upon tales told by the Buddha to his monks 2500 years ago. Isabel Wyatt's enchanting retelling conjures up a rich world of eastern legend, ruled by courtly kings and wise men, and populated by brave princes, faithful elephants and cunning monkeys. The stories tell of great adventures and heroes, of danger and courage, and most importantly of how wisdom and thoughtfulness always triumph over selfishness and greed. This anthology was compiled with children around the age of eight in mind -- children who are embarking on more and more adventures in their own lives, and themselves learning to become clever and brave.

I read the Seven Year Old Wonder to my small homeschool class, who loved Sylvia's adventures and remembered details from previous chapters that I did not! I was very excited to order the eight year old legend book, knowing that it was not the same characters, but hoping for a similar feeling. Very different, less soft, more abrupt short stories.-The stories are interesting to adults and children alike-Messages appropriate for my students who enjoyed them, Waldorf 2nd grade.-Each chapter is a completely different legend, no continuity, chapter titles do not share the moral of the stories
